

Welcome...

Posted by Peter on 24 July 2007

..to Listen to English, the podcast website for people learning English.

The podcasts on this site will help you to improve your English vocabulary and pronunciation and your listening skills. There are two short (3 to 5 minutes) podcasts every week, in clearly spoken English. Many of them are linked to grammar and vocabulary notes, or to exercises or quizzes. You can download the podcasts to your computer, or subscribe using a programme such as iTunes or Yahoo, or simply listen to them by clicking the Flash player on the web page beneath each episode. You can put the podcasts onto your iPod or MP3 player, and listen to them on your way to school or work. The full text of each podcast is on this site (and will also appear on your iPod screen), so you can look up the meanings of words that you do not understand in a dictionary. Then close your eyes and listen! Have fun!

NEW : you can now subscribe to Listen to English - learn English! by Email

If you are a regular visitor to this site, you will notice that it has a completely new look. Not all of the features on the website work yet, but I hope to finish work on it very soon.

This is the text of the podcast at <http://www.listen-to-english.comindex.php?id=124>,